Dear M's Peirce

RE: Mr. Caul Silford Grant:
Unlawful Detainment,

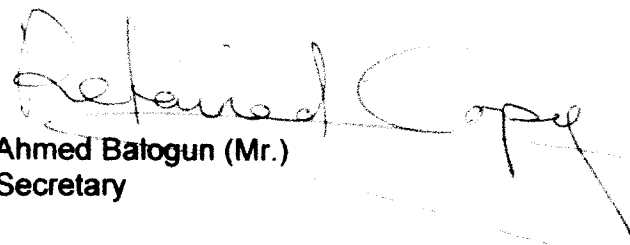

I recently spent £70.00 to attain a brand new copy of Chambers UK: A client's guide to the UK Legal Profession, 2003-2004.

The passion in which your firm's outstanding work to the public is described made me choose to contact your firm, with the hope that you will agree to assist in this matter.

I know you must get huge client demand, because everyone always want the best Law Firm to represent them. However as neither hunger or money can no longer be the prime motive for doing what you do, I plead you take-up this matter, for within it is contained characteristics for making History. In fact, it contains the first real test for Article 7, 6 and 5 of the 1998 Human Rights Act in this Country like never seen before.

I hope you will rise to the people's call and be the unequivocal champion for Justice.

Yours Sincerely

Ahmed Balogun (Mr.)
Secretary
