Mr. Micheal Howard (MP)
C/O House of Commons
London SW1A 0AA

Dear Sir

This campaign has brought serious matters of state Lawbreaking with documented evidence to your attention. (Once again, copies are enclosed for your perusal, (Queen's letter; Lord Chancellor's letter))

So far it appears that even you are not interested in ensuring that no citizen of this country, irrespective of race, gender or ethnicity, is ever forced to endure such gross injustices amounting from an abuse of power and judicial process as outlined to you in the case of Mr. Caul Silford Grant.

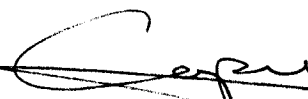

Leaders must lead from the front with integrity. If you fail to do this, then you yourself will fall into dishonor, unworthy at the very least of the Grammar school education you proudly allude to possess, but may have been very well secured you, in preparation for this very purpose.

The UK Government and its MPs have lost their sense of duty and integrity. The current Prime Minister, (Mr. Out of touch Blair) whose hypocritical involvement and improprieties in this matter was in order to protect his long time friend and mentor responsible for giving him entry into Law practice (Lord Irvine of Lairg). He himself now deeply entrenched and unaware of both Mr. Grant and this campaigns resolve to see the matter through (since 1998) must account for his roles and involvement in the Unlawful Imprisonment issue, Lord Irvine failed to address, despite interventions from Her Majesty The Queen, whilst Lord Chancellor.

This issue is relevant to the sudden abolishment of the Lord Chancellors office in 2003 without consultation, or notice of intent to the nation as is customary. Failure to act on such serious matter of judicial corruption resulting in Unlawful Imprisonment in spite of intervention from the Constitutional Sovereign, still require explanation.

Finally I close by notifying you at this juncture that when I write you, often copies go out to varied individuals and institutions. Till date, the media have failed the general public in omitting to investigate or give publicity to this matter and assist in the long overdue redress of injustice. Additionally there are invaluable lessons for all to be learnt (most especially the courts) so repairs can be put in place to prevent any future occurrence of such gross failures and omissions from ever happening again.

Yours Sincerely

A Balogun BA (Nons.) Social Policy
Secretary
